

if -2k

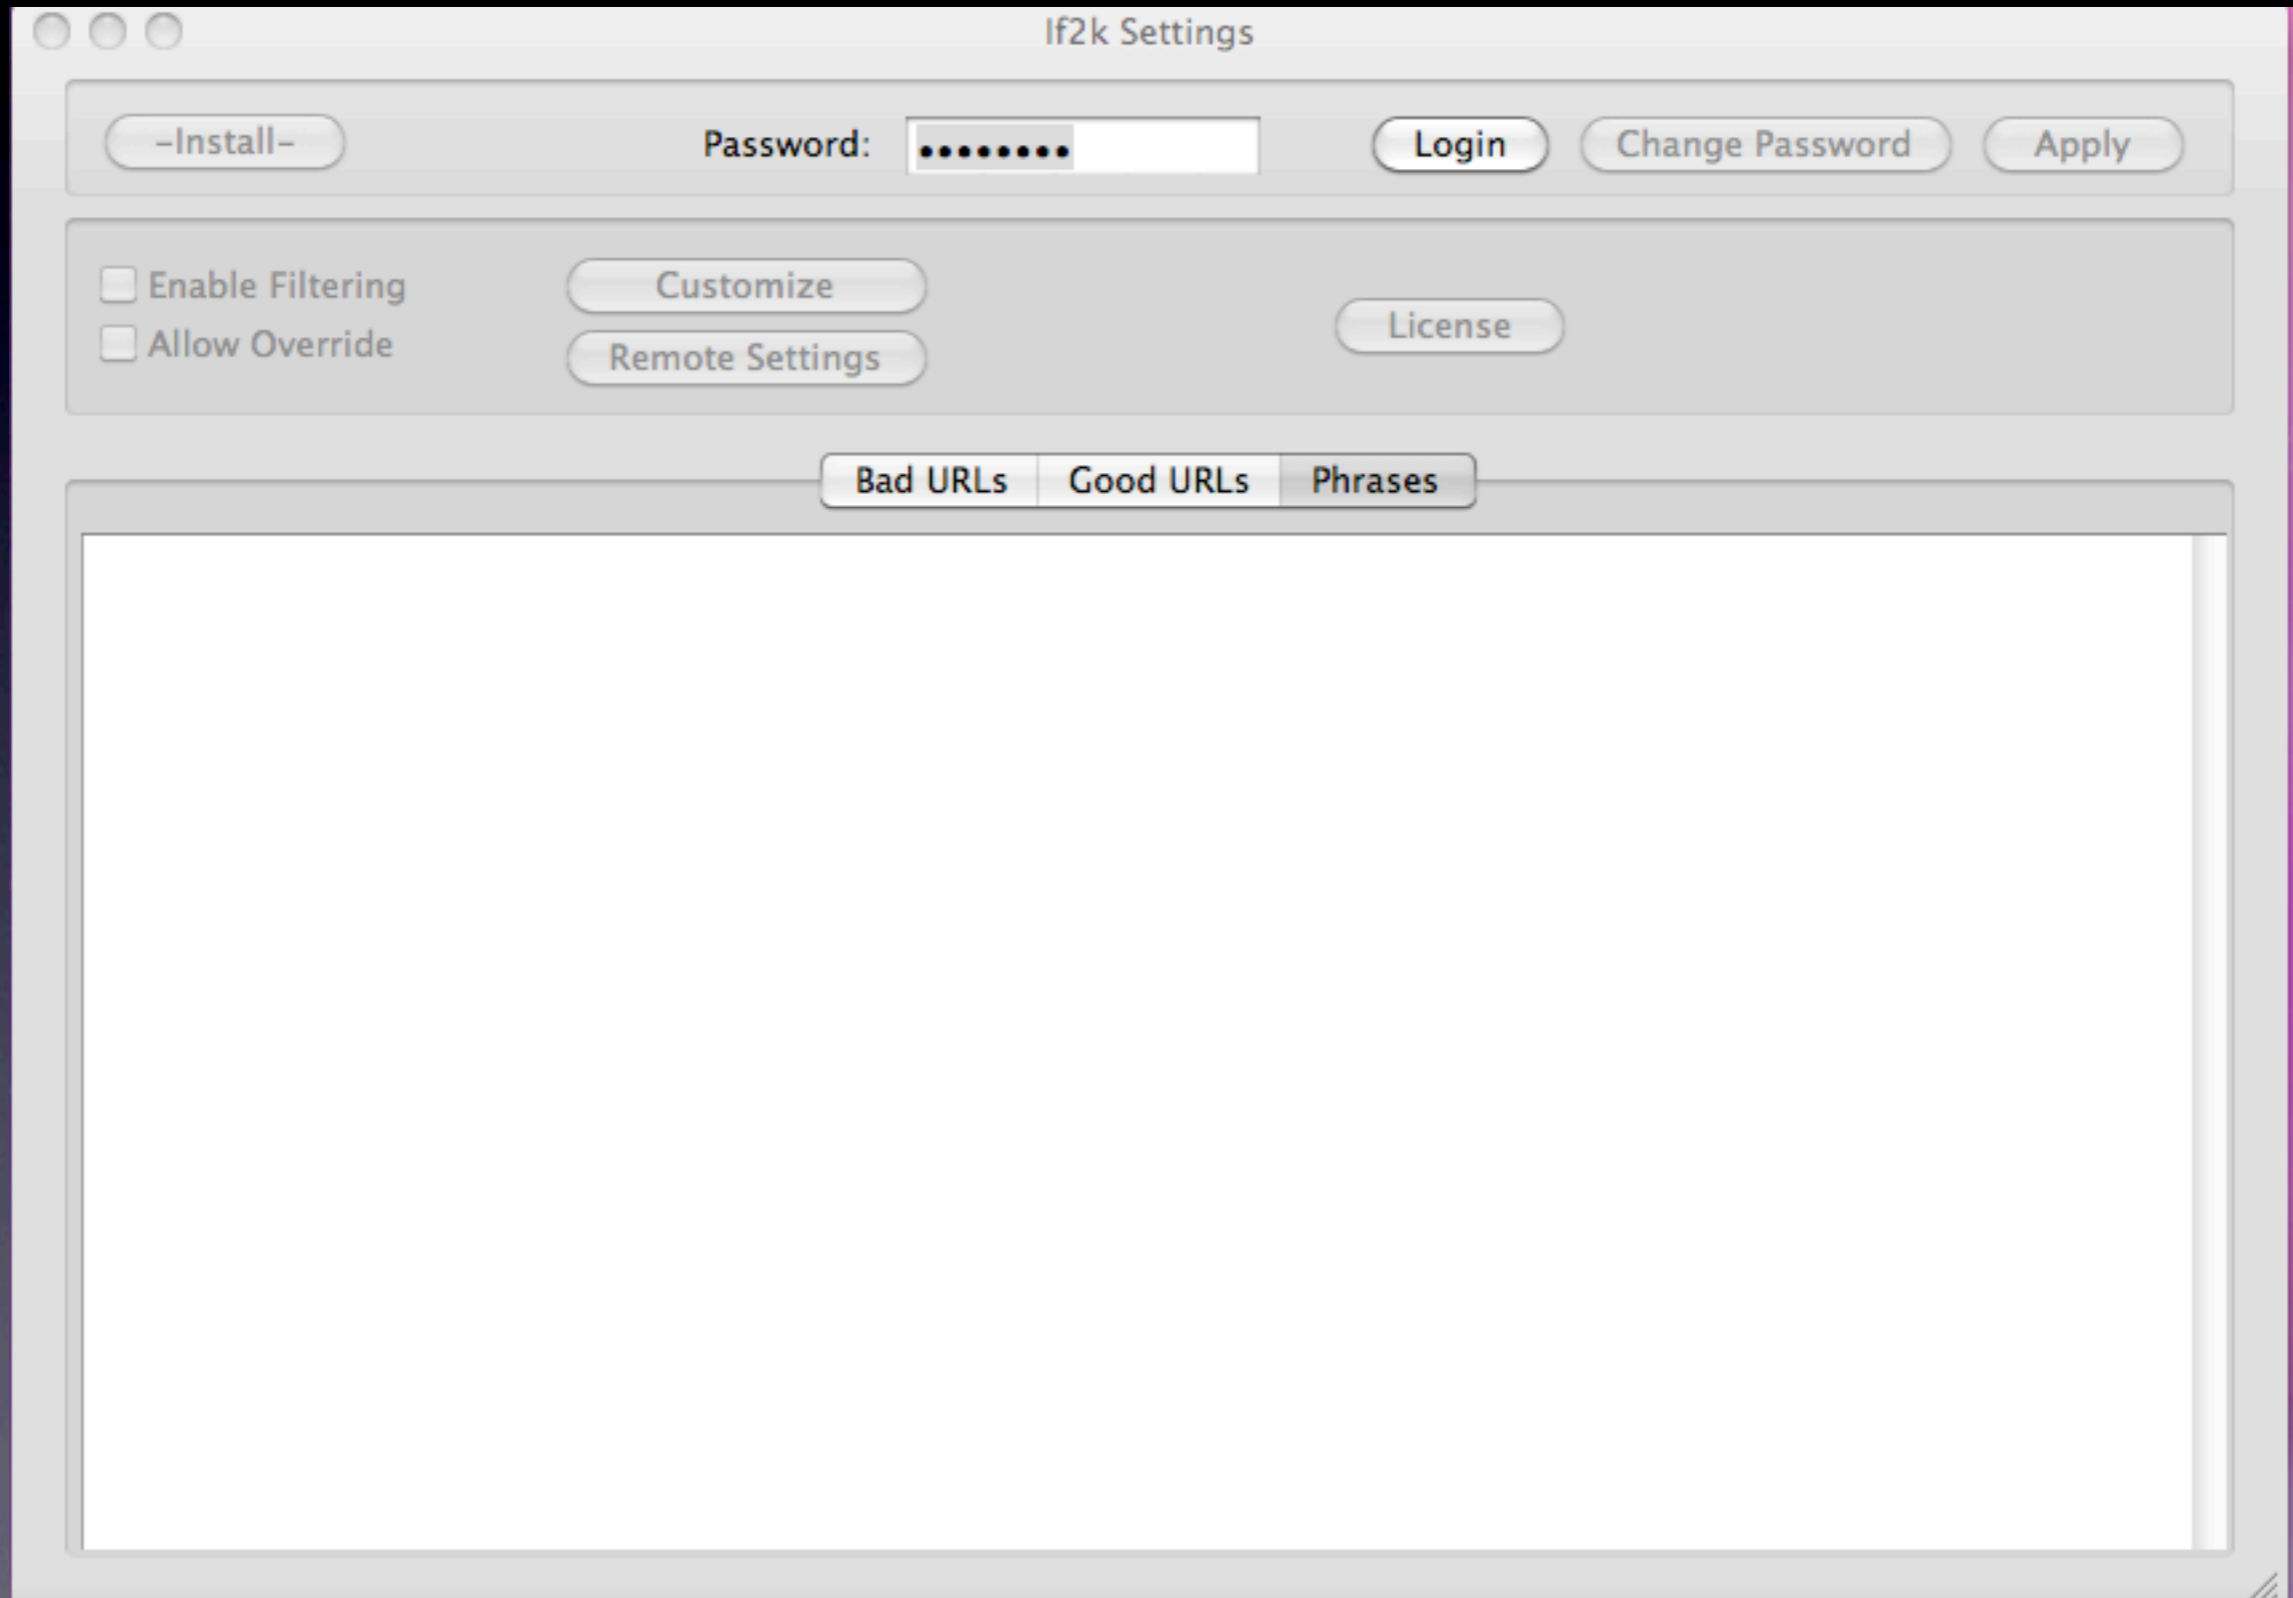

Getting Started

click in window to advance to next frame

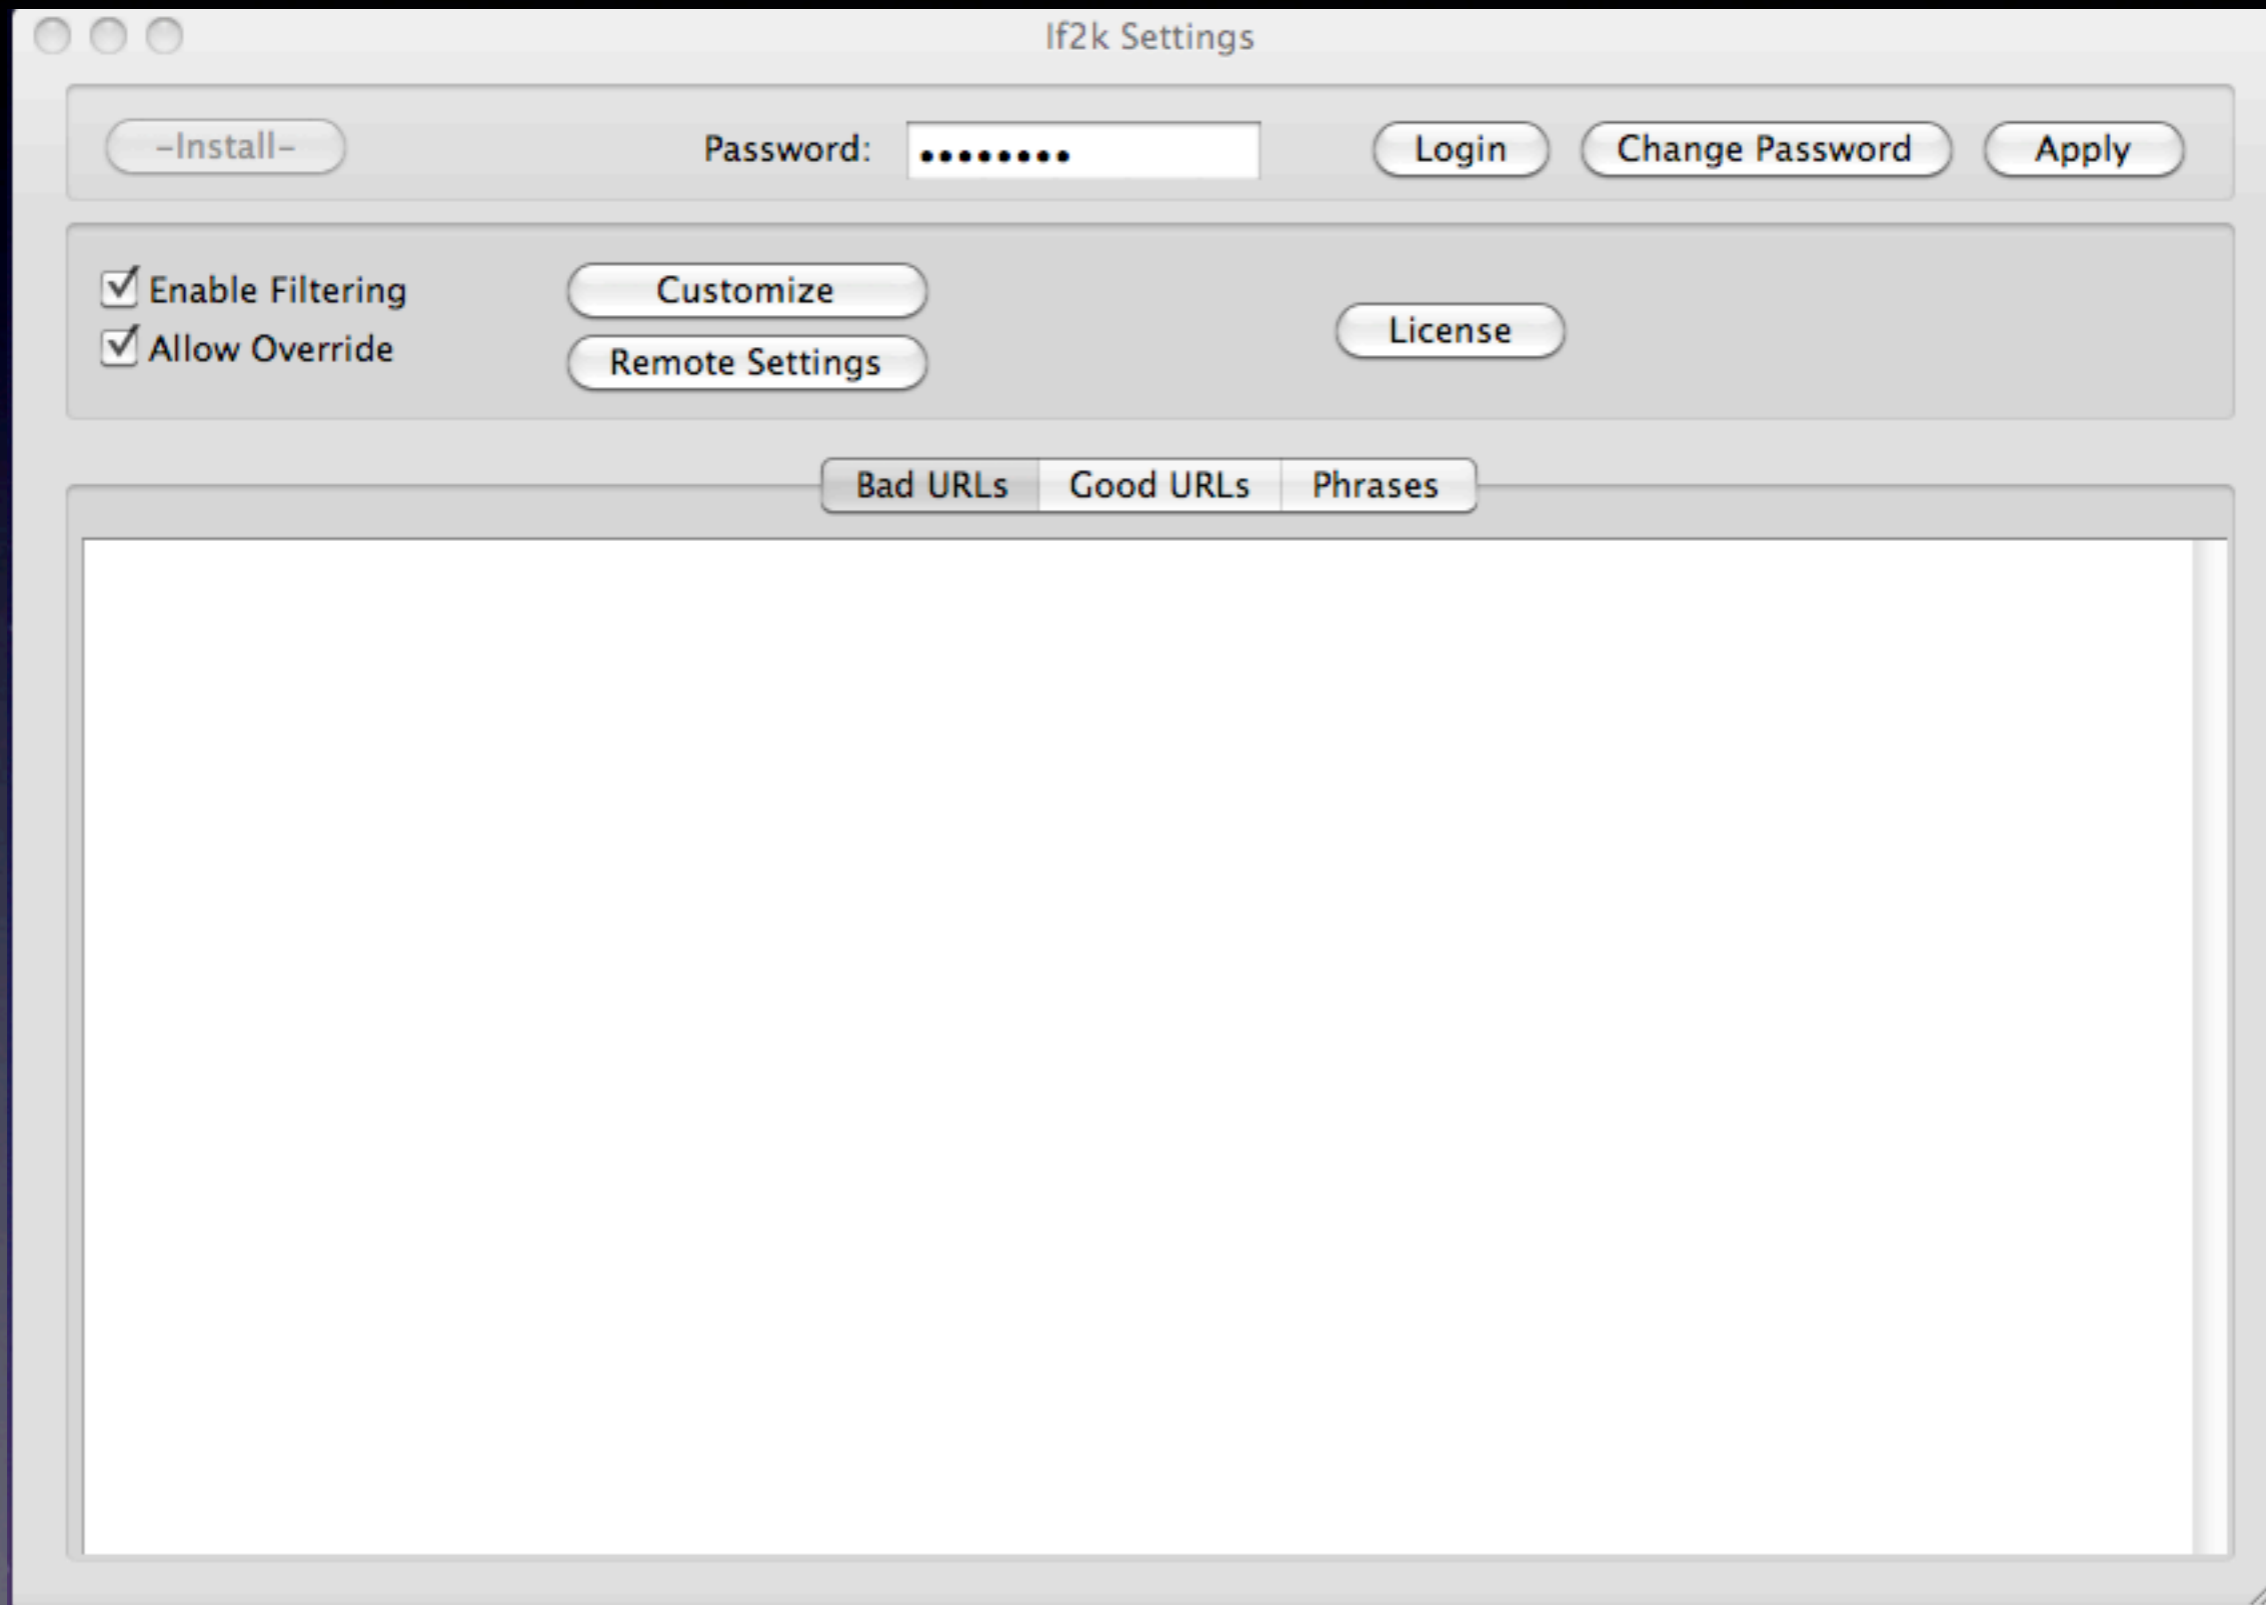

When you download the demo you will receive the following files -click on the settings window .

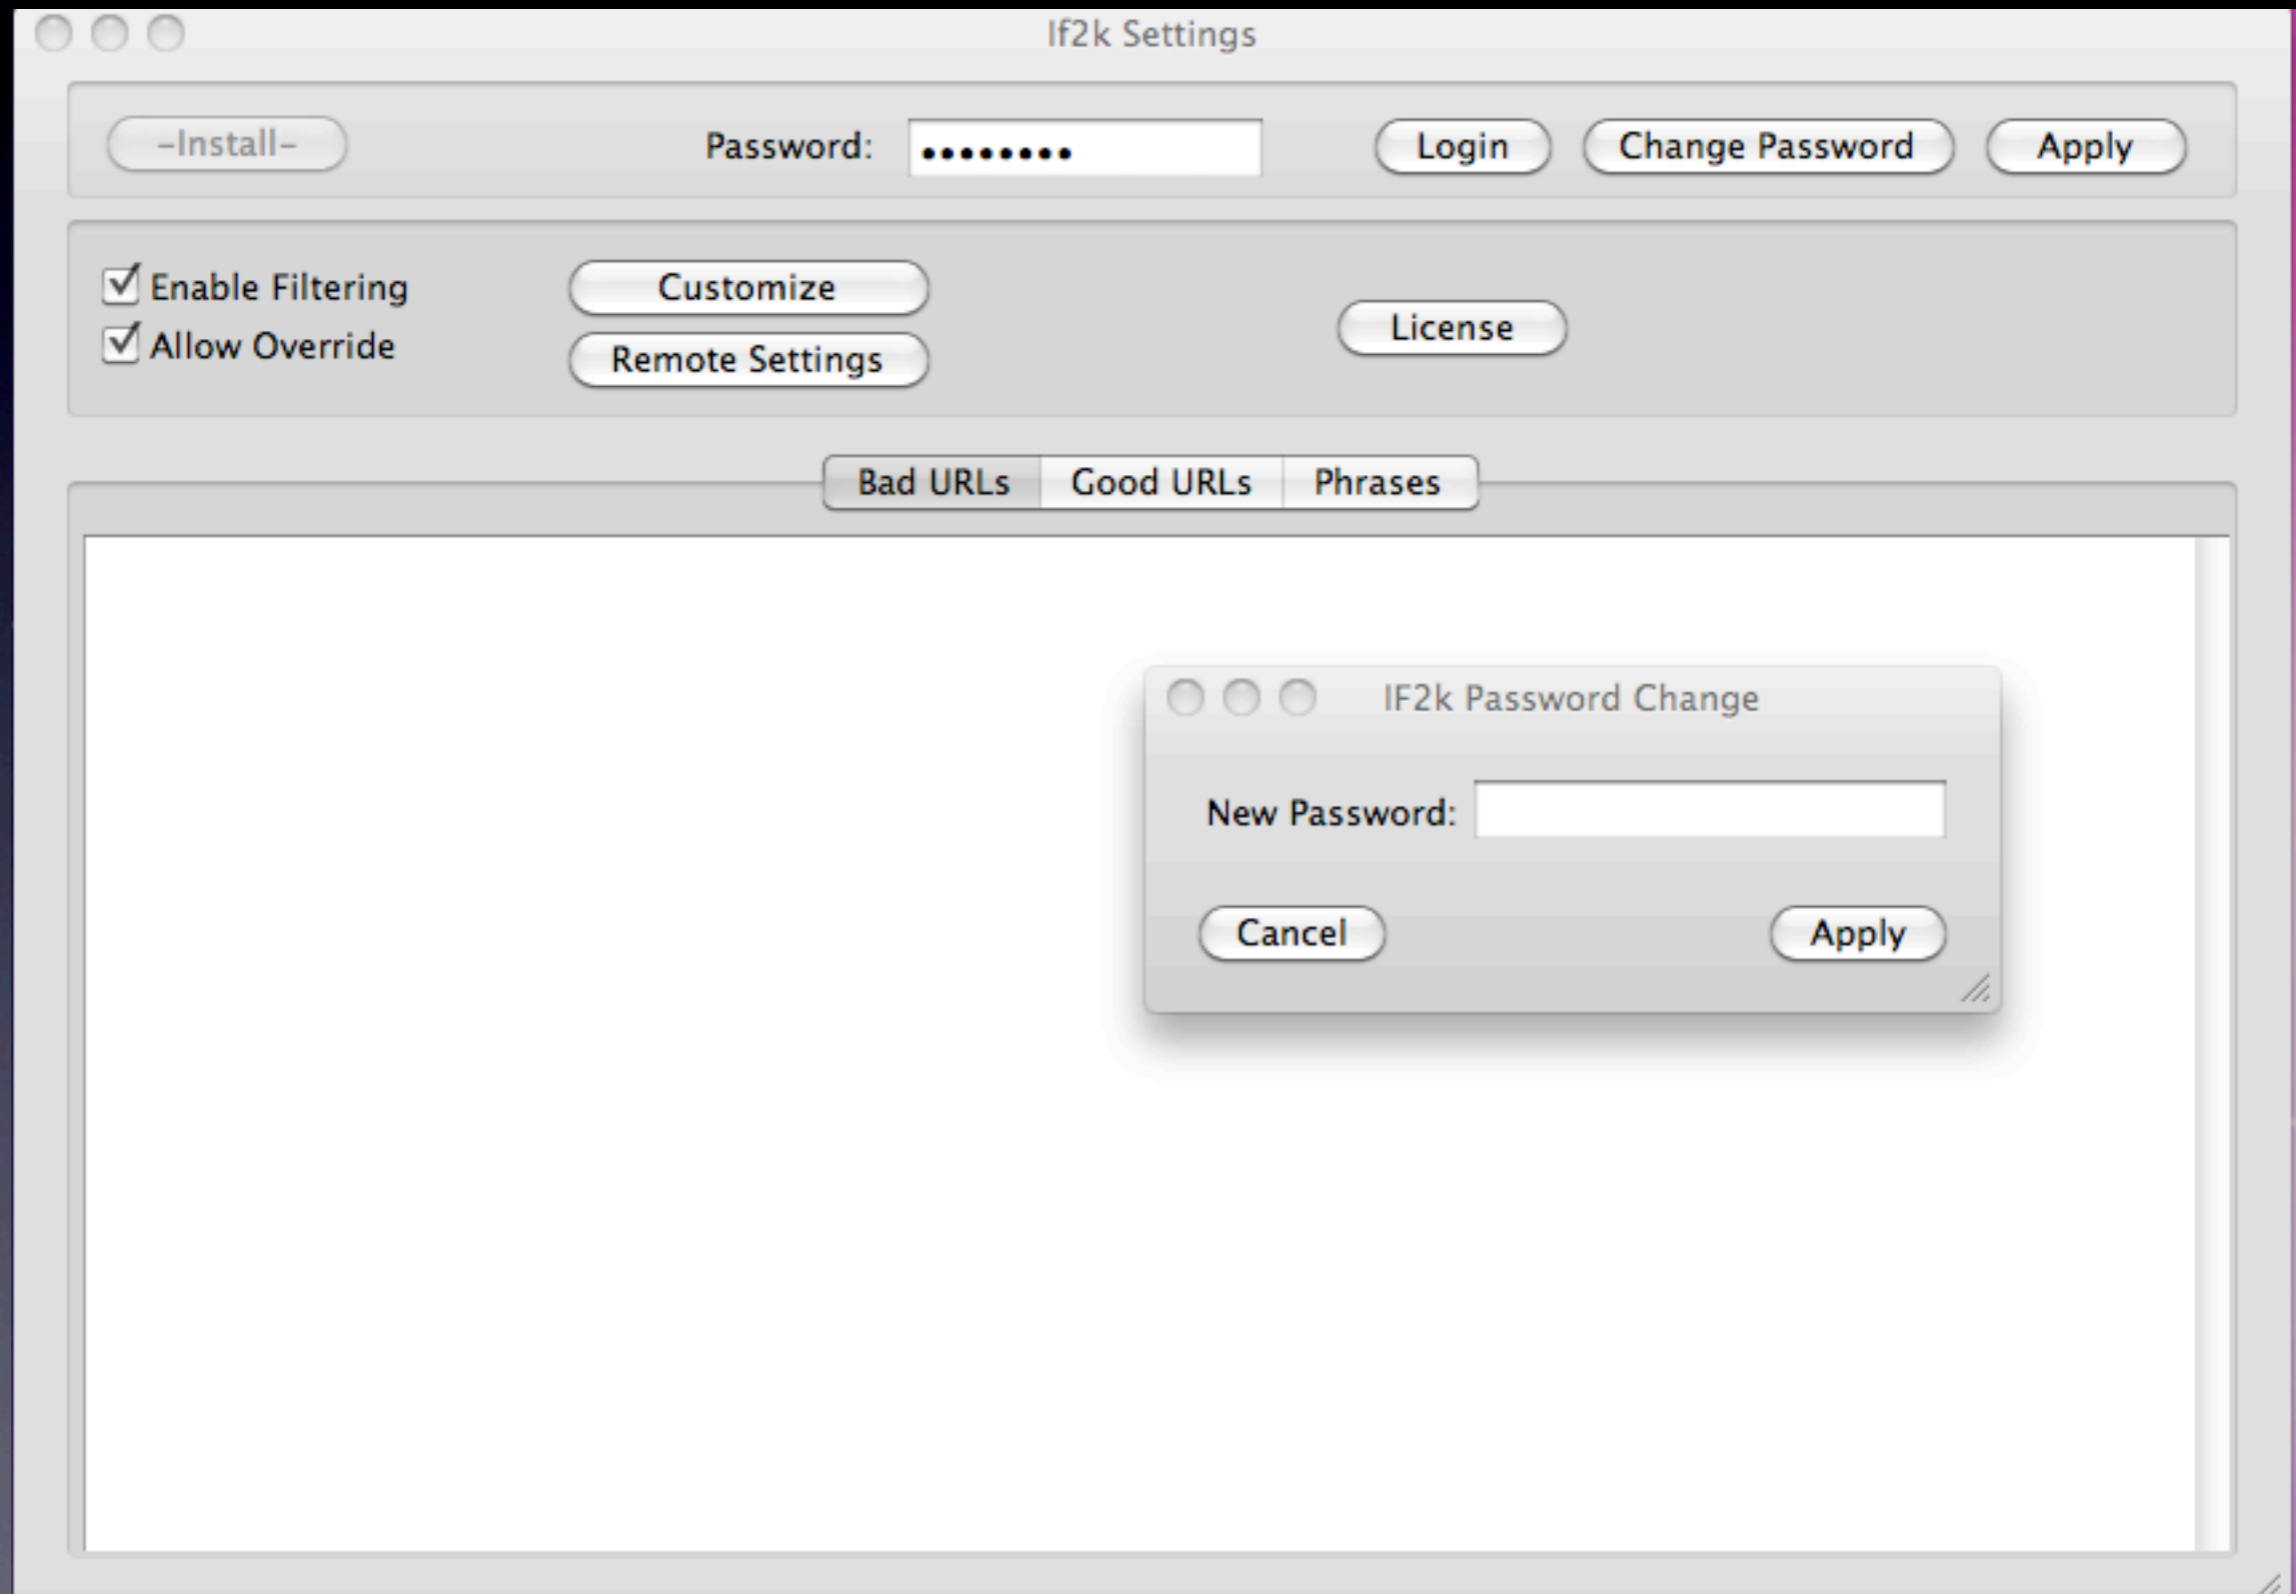

if you have not already installed then click on the install button on the top left hand side of the settings window.

The default password is “password” without the quotes.
type in password and click on login. The filter is now active.

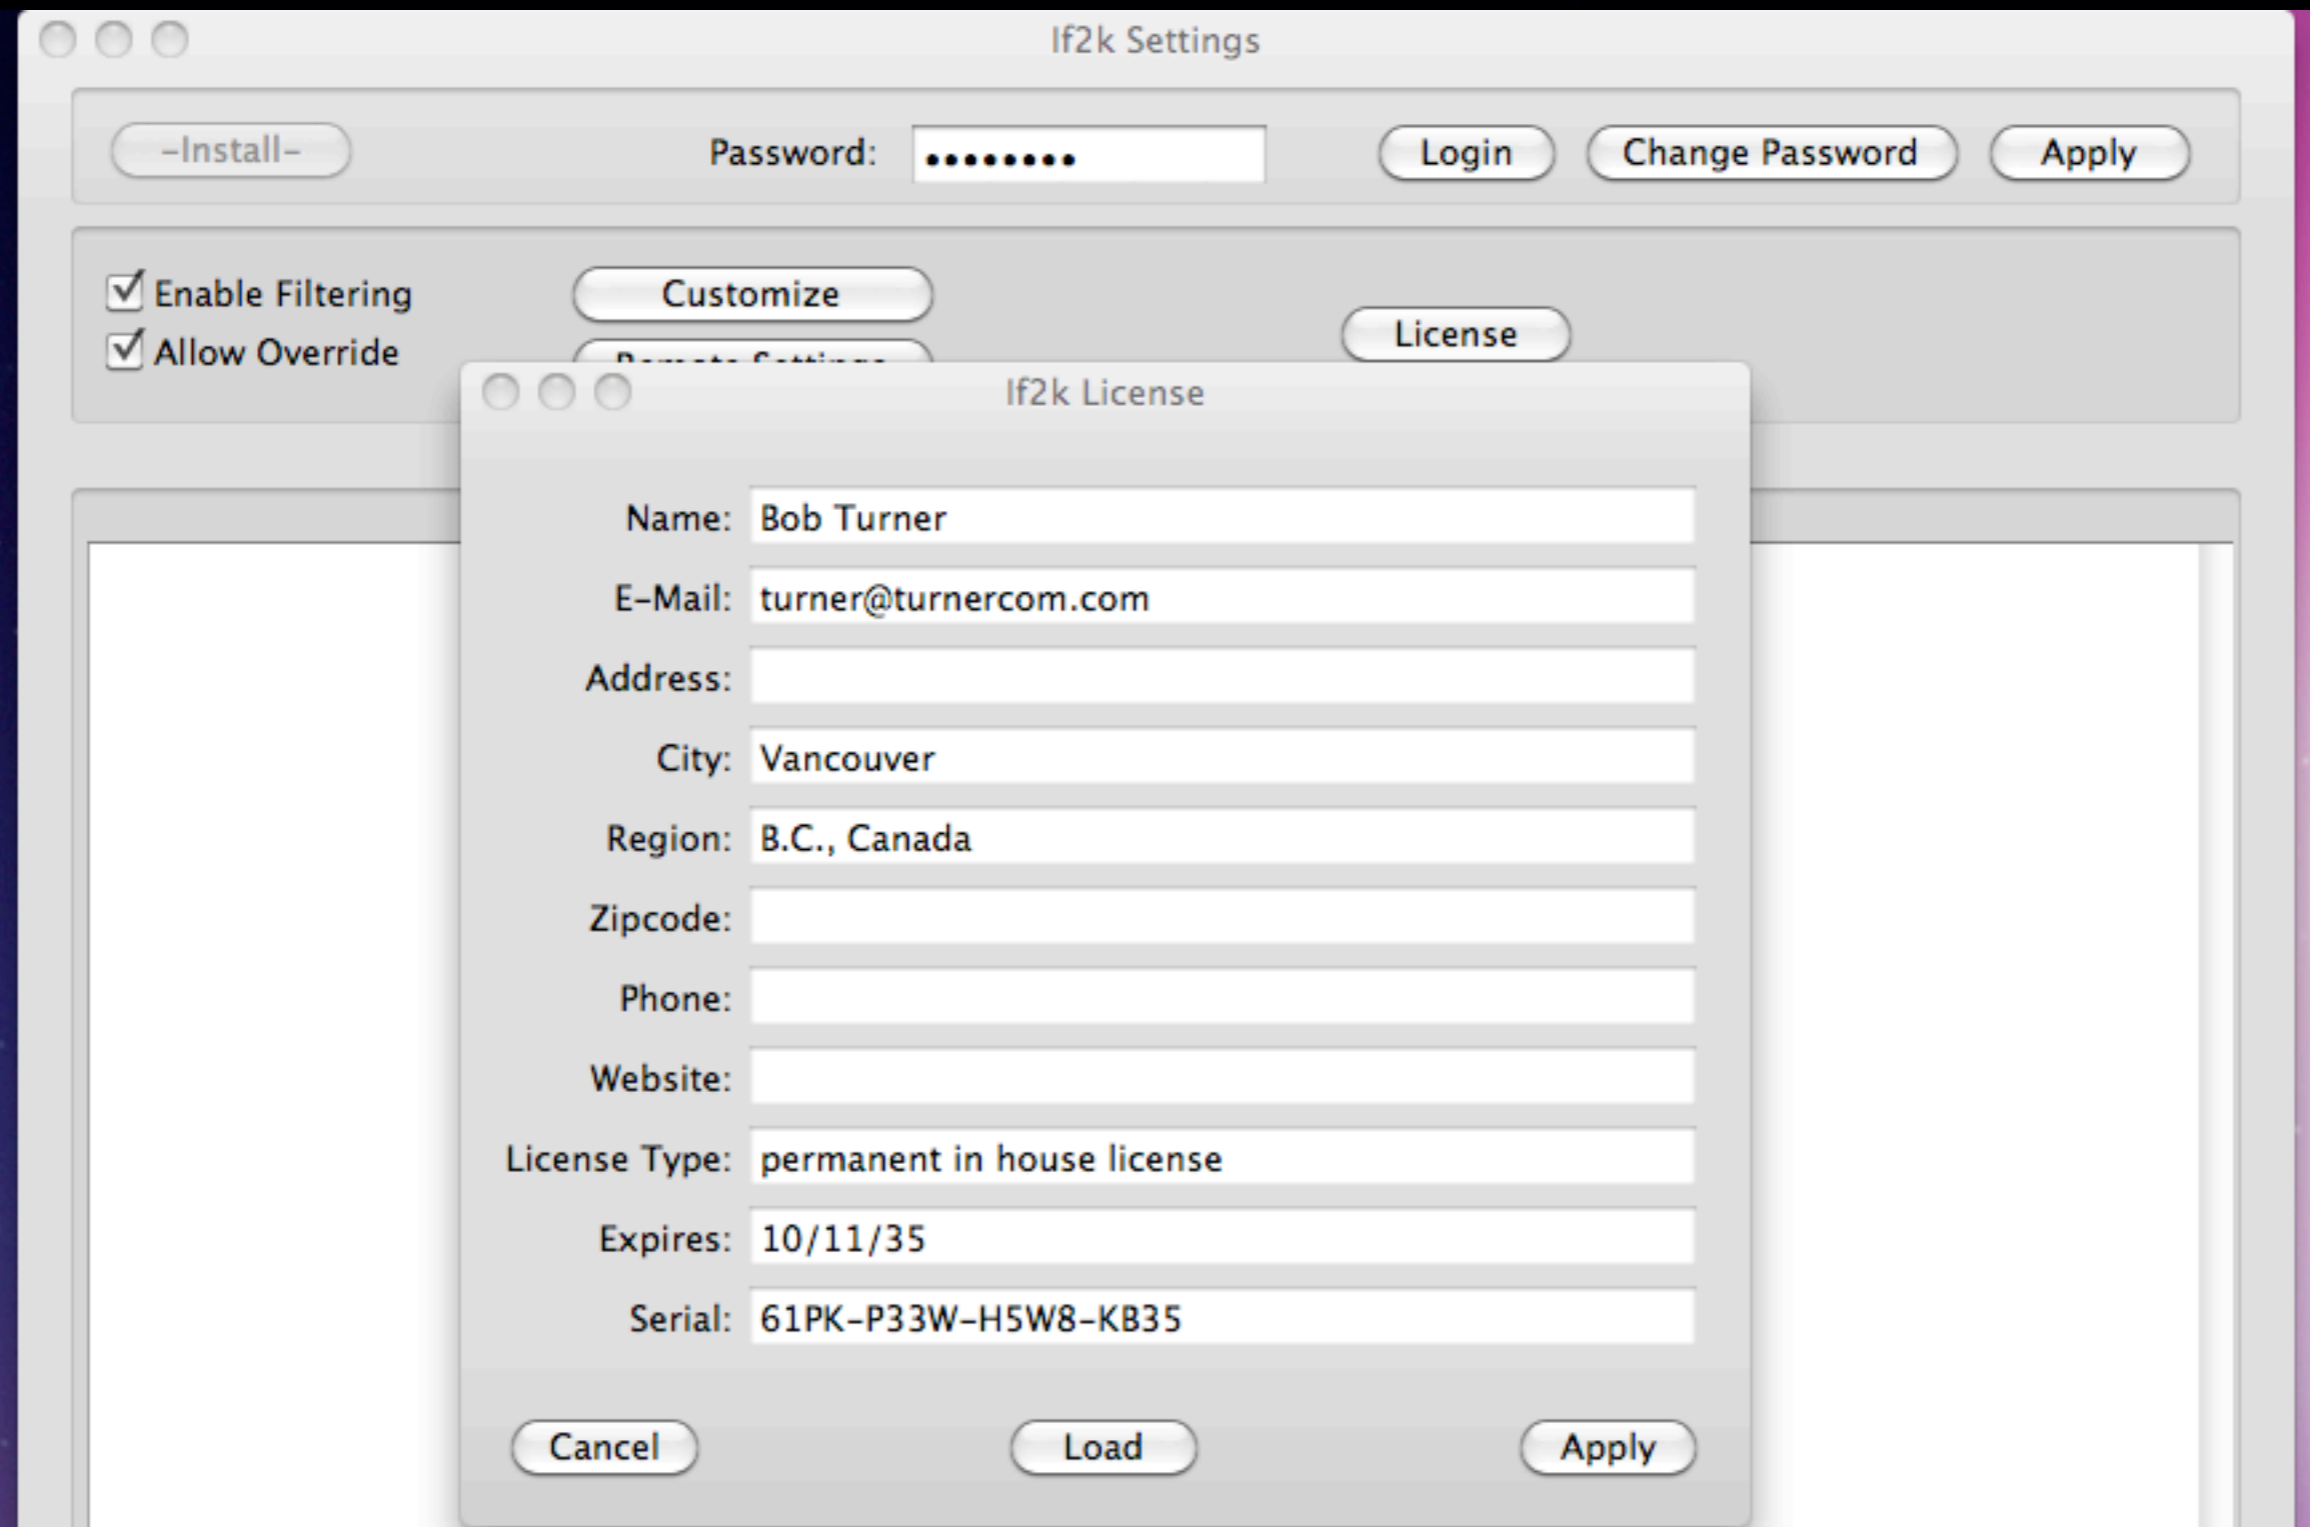

If you want to change the password click on the “Change Password” button and enter your personal password into the password change window and click on apply. Apply means save. If you change anything in if-2K and if you do not hit apply your changes will not be saved.

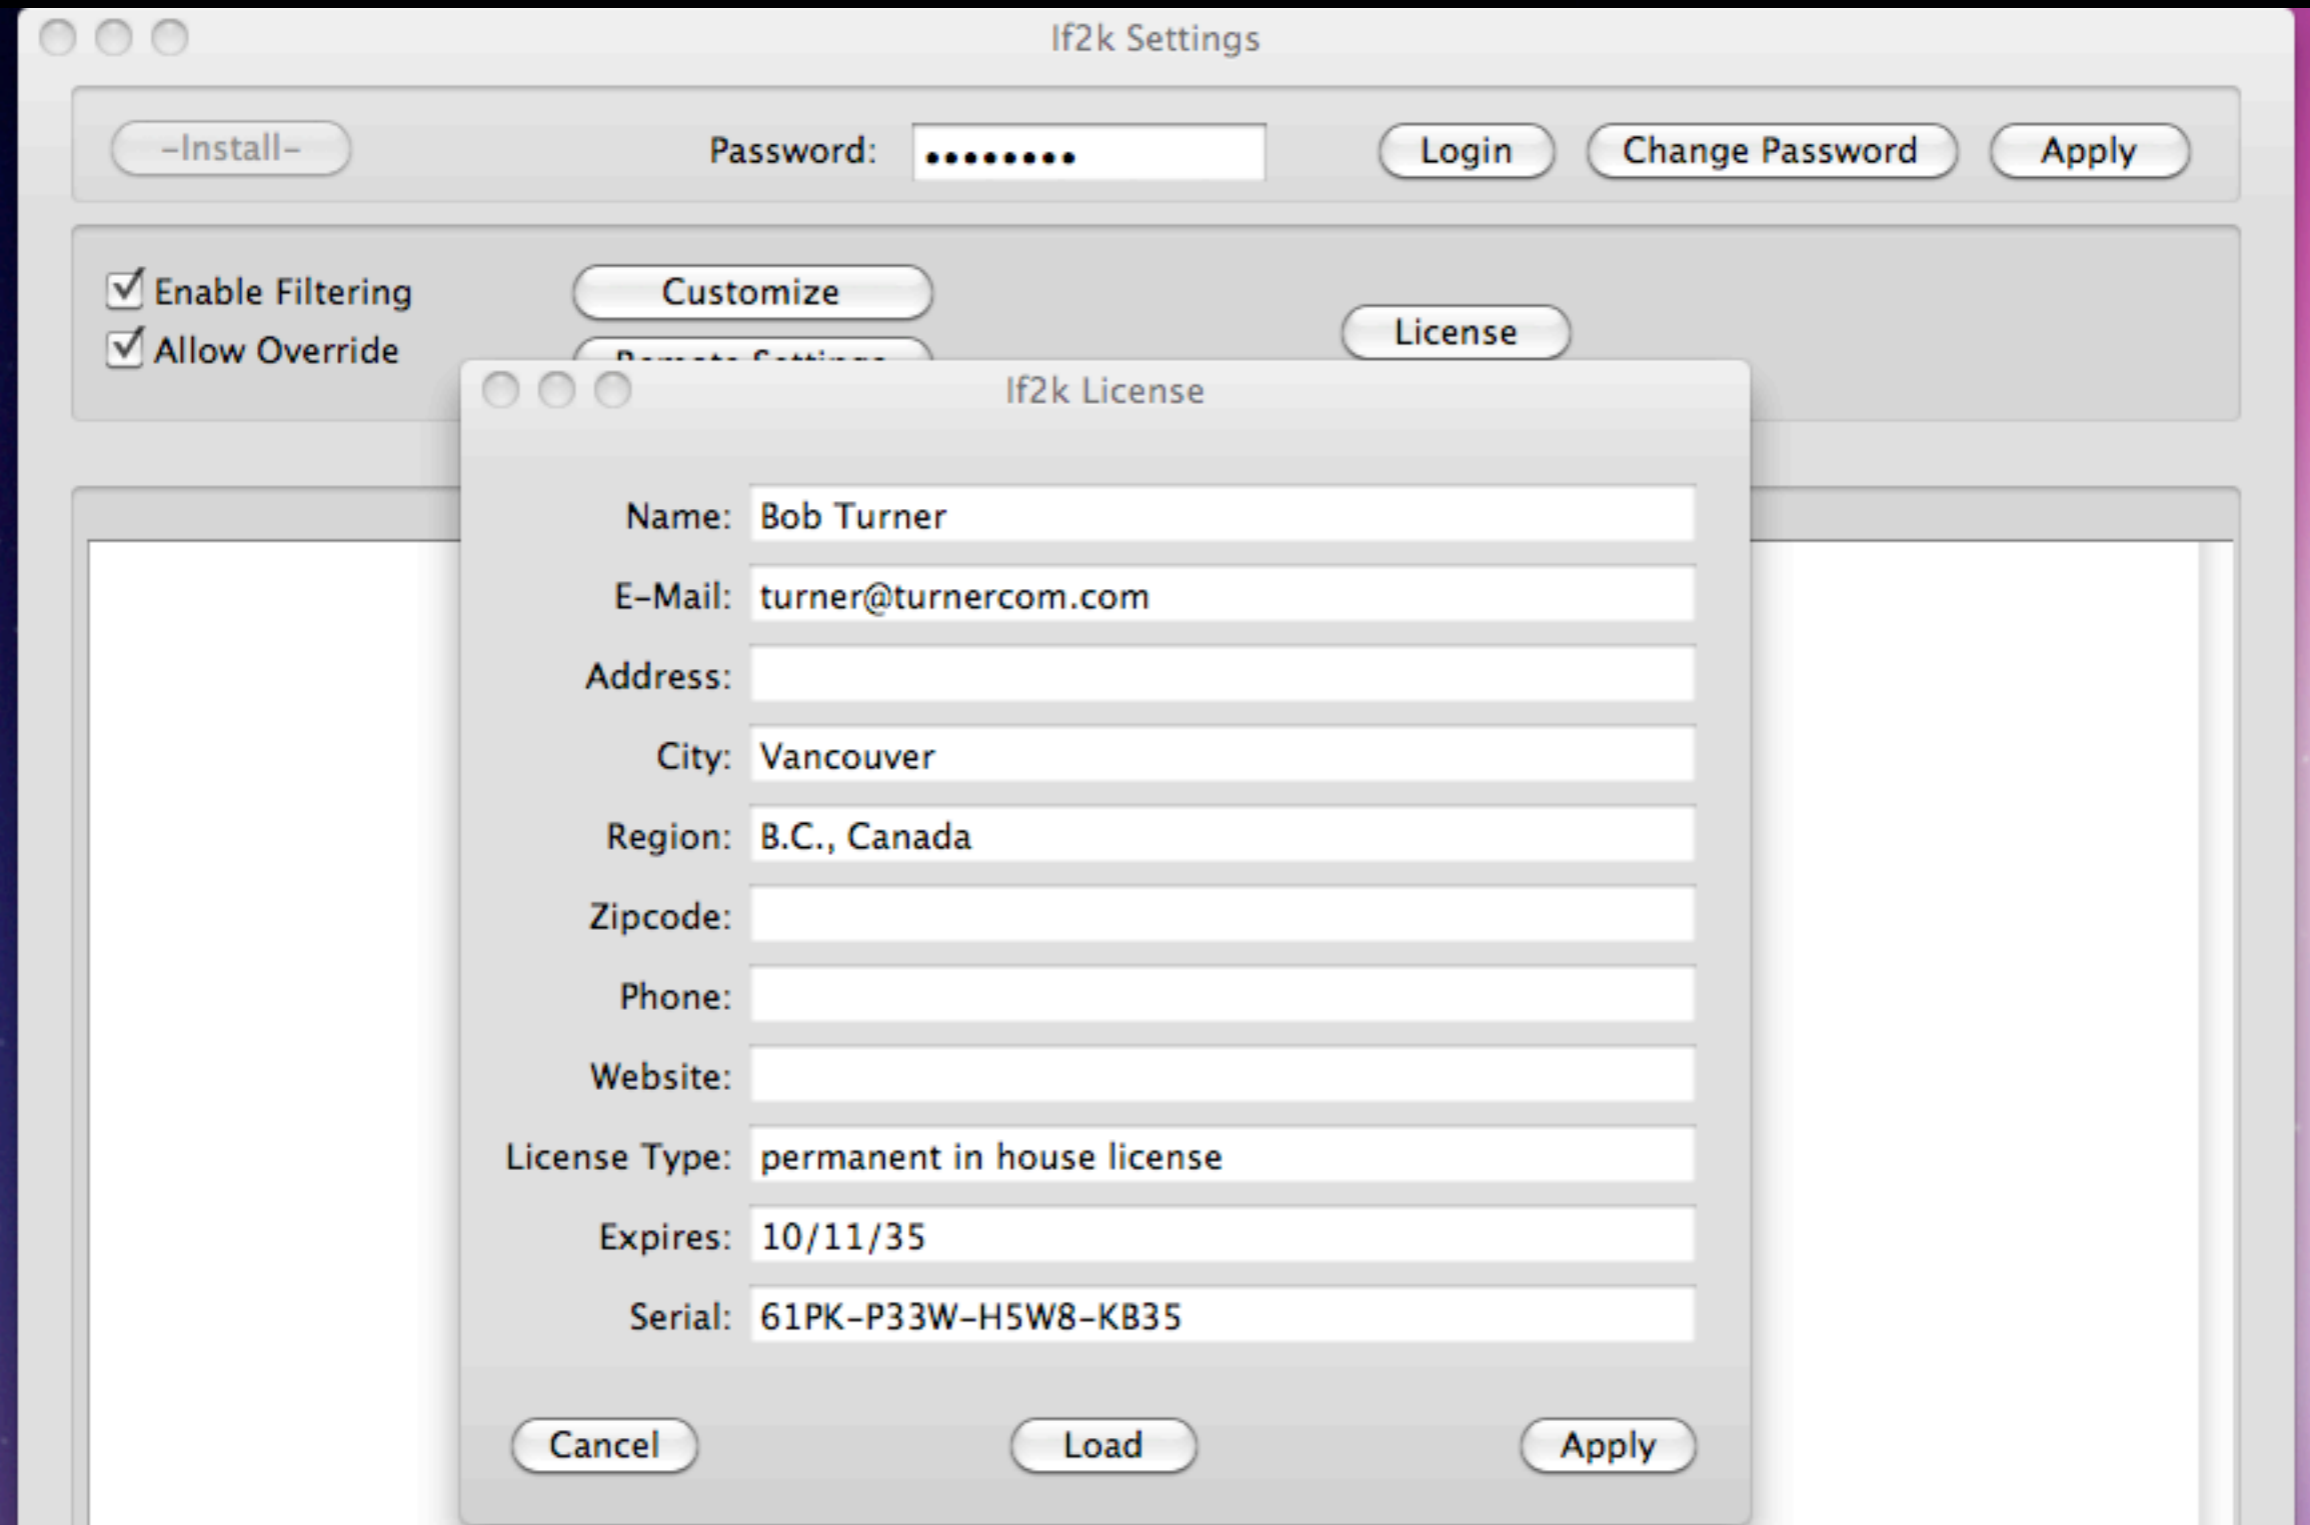

When you purchased if-2k - you were sent a zip file containing a text licensed file "yourname.txt." Place the text file in a folder and load it into the license window . Loadit as a file. Do not type anything. The license window can be accessed by clicking on the license button.

When the license is loaded hit apply. Apply means save and must be clicked to save any changes you make

When you purchased if-2k - you were sent a zip file containing a text licensed file "yourname.txt." Place the text file in a folder and load it into the license window . Loadit as a file. Do not type anything. The license window can be accessed by clicking on the license button.

When the license is loaded hit apply. Apply means save and must be clicked to save any changes you make

synopsis

License Instructions_ 2 versions

Click on the "License" button in the main window.

This window allows you to load a new license file. You may not edit any of these fields.

When you purchase the filter, you will be sent a zip file containing a text file of the license information.

Save this text file to a folder on your desktop or hard drive and click the "Load" button in this window. Select the license file and open the file. You should see your specific license information in the window.

Press the "Apply" button and the license information will be stored.

Press the "Apply" button in the main window to send this information to the filter.

Or in other words

#0) unzip the license file. A 'txt' file will appear.

#1) Run IF2k Settings

#2) Click Login

#3) Click License

#4) Click load

#5) select the file "yourname.txt"

#6) see your name in the license window

#7) click apply in the license window

#8) click apply in the main window